INSTRUCTION

FOR STRONGER READERS, WRITERS, AND THINKERS

A liberatory consciousness requires every individual to not only notice what is going on in the world... but to think about it and theorize about it — that is, to get information and develop his or her own explanation for what is happening, why it is happening, and what needs to be done about it.

HELP ME, YOU ARE WASTING YOUR TIME.

BUT IF YOU HAVE COME BECAUSE YOUR LIBERATION IS BOUND UP WITH MINE, THEN LET US WORK TOGETHER.

Our ongoing examination of who we are in our full humanity, embracing all of our identities, creates the possibility of building alliances that may ultimately free us all.

The background of the entire page is a repeating pattern of stylized snowflakes and small five-pointed stars. The snowflakes are circular with multiple points, and the stars are simple outlines. The pattern is light gray and covers the entire page.

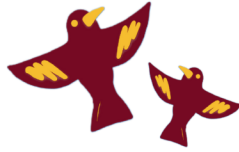

TEACHERS KNOW ABOUT LOVE.

WHEN WE TEACH WITH LOVE,
WE SEE EACH OF OUR KIDS WITH THE RESPECT AND COMPASSION, COMPLEXITY AND MESSINESS THAT MAKES THEM HUMAN.

WHEN WE TEACH WITH LOVE, WE LEAD WITH GRACE AND OPENNESS AND HOPE.

WHEN WE TEACH WITH LOVE,
WE KNOW THAT OUR LIBERATION IS BOUND IN EACH OTHER.

Tricia Ebarria

What would it mean to truly "get free" as an educator? How can we identify and challenge bias in our reading and writing curriculum and instruction? How can we support students in becoming empathetic, engaged individuals who can communicate with the world through reading and writing skills developed with compassion and critical thinking?

Answering these questions requires deep personal reflection and intentional daily practice — and it's crucial today more than ever, when students are overwhelmed with misinformation and disinformation.

Drawn from decades of classroom experience and founded on the scholarship of social justice educators, Tricia Ebarvia provides a framework that can help teachers implement transformative, anti-bias literacy instruction in middle- and high school classrooms. Get Free offers educators

- Strategies for scaffolding literacy instruction in ways that center students' identities and experiences, and help them develop a more inclusive understanding of literature and writing
- Classroom structures and routines that support critical listening and open, authentic conversation and writing responses
- Invitations for teachers to re-examine curriculum and instructional practices, based on a deeper sense of who we are and what we bring to every reading and writing experience

To develop stronger reading, writing, and critical thinking skills, anti-bias literacy instruction is essential. This is the book for teachers, new and experienced, who know that classrooms can be transformative, liberatory spaces where students better understand themselves, others, and the world.

Imagine the possibilities if we could just get free...
